

LEIVARS

LEIVARS is a high end interior design practice with a fundamental passion for creating beautiful interiors. Whether inspired by existing architecture or our clients individual tastes, every stage of design is considered with meticulous attention to detail.

A focus on quality and practicality has earned LEIVARS thirteen industry awards, extensive press coverage, and House and Garden 'one to watch' status. Most recently we have received a 'one to watch for the UK' 2019 accolade from Build Magazine, won the bedroom category and been shortlisted in two further categories at the 2018 International Design & Architecture Awards, reached finalist status for the third time in the SBID Design Excellence awards, received a 'Best of Houzz Design' accolade for the sixth year running, and our fifth consecutive 'Best of Houzz Service' award.

Having just celebrated our 11th Anniversary the philosophy of LEIVARS remains to the core of everything that we design, our interiors must be both intelligent, and diverse in style, with the utmost attention to detail throughout.

We are absolutely committed to being approachable and designing homes that are unique in style, liveable balanced with luxury. We understand that our clients opinion should be at the heart of what we do and we have never lost sight of that.

Working on a no in house style philosophy allows us the freedom to work with our clients and develop and implement designs that reflect their personalities, it also ensures we are constantly on the search for new products and suppliers both British and International. As a team we attend as many trade shows as we can to truly keep abreast of new innovative products coming to the market but we also take the back routes down the unknown streets to find those one off items, the detail is what we love as it brings to life the designs for our clients. Working on coastal projects in Sandbanks, through elegant country homes, to Georgian Townhouses, our strength lies in our ability to listen to the needs of our clients and offer the utmost discretion. Proud of our reputation for excellence, we thrive on client referrals and repeat business as our clients expand their property portfolios.
